

Chinese Art: History, Development and Appreciation

Panel Discussion Chinese Art: History, Development and Appreciation

Thursday Sept. 10
5:00 – 6:00pm
Art and Design Building Room 1007
George Mason University Fairfax Campus

The Confucius Institute at Mason and George Mason University School of Art present the exhibition, Ageless Chinese Art: A Virginia Scholar's Collection of Chinese Calligraphy and Paintings from Sept. 10 to Oct. 23, 2015 at the Mason Fine Arts Gallery in Fairfax, Virginia.

To provide an introduction to this fine collection of artworks, a panel discussion will be convened at 5:00pm on Thursday, Sept. 10 entitled "Chinese Art: History Development and Appreciation". Academic scholars will introduce the art, history and philosophical perspectives of this most-valued form of Chinese visual arts as it has evolved over the past few thousand years.

Panelists include:

Dr. Carma Hinton

Robinson Professor of Visual Culture and Chinese Studies, George Mason University and award-winning film maker

Dr. Michael Chang

Associate Professor of Department of History and Art History, George Mason University

Dr. Chi Wang

Professor of History at Georgetown University and former director of the Chinese Division of the Library of Congress

Thursday Sept. 10

Exhibition Opening

5:00 – 6:00pm Panel Discussion, Room 1007
6:00 – 7:00pm Opening Reception, Gallery of Art

George Mason University, Art and Design Building, Fairfax, Virginia

For campus directions and parking information:

<http://www.gmu.edu/resources/welcome/Directions-to-GMU.html>

For information about the George Mason Fine Arts Gallery:

<http://soa.gmu.edu/fine-arts-gallery/>

Public Reception and Panel

Discussion:

Thursday,
September 10, 2015,
5:00-7:30p.m.

Exhibition Dates:

September 10 to
October 23, 2015

Hours:

Monday-Friday,
12:00-4:00p.m.

Location:

Fine Arts Gallery,
Art & Design
Building,
Fairfax Campus

GEORGE
MASON
UNIVERSITY